

Dictation (fyrisøgn)

From being very young, Joe had always had a natural talent for riding a bicycle. On his eighth birthday, he wasn't just given a regular kid's bike, but a five-star stunt bike made from a lightweight material perfect for doing his flips and jumps. Luckily, just opposite his house was a skate park so he trained at length to become the best rider he could be. Over the years, he had many injuries, which included many cuts and bruises, five separate broken bones; not to mention the time he lost his front teeth!

I suppose that's what can happen when you decide to attempt a full circle somersault in mid-air!
